WORK OF RESTORING OLD ADOBE NEAR PETALUMA STARTS

Native Sons of Petaluma, to the Number of Thirty-Five, Take a Day Off and Clean Up the Old Fort

On last Sunday morning a delegation of thirty-five members of the Native Sons of the Golden West, left Petaluma in a wagon drawn by four horses for the "Old Adobe", which was built in the early days by General Vallejo of this place. Arriving, the members lost no time and immeadiately put up 420 feet of wire fencing and planted a number of trees along the fence. The hours of the morning soon passed away and at noon a delicious Spanish dinner was served for the hungry natives who devoured the meal with relish. The afternoon was devoted to placing the flag pole in position after which a flag raising was held and old glory floated to the breeze. Visitors were entertained, a prominent visitor being Mrs. Winton of San Francisco who told of her experiences when she crossed the plains in 1852. L. W. Greenwood who was present at the gathering informed the members that he would give his time and labor towards plastering the "Old Adobe" free of charge providing the members would furnish the material. He will form a composition of his own fo the plastering of the building, such a material as used for the peasant huts in the old country. A Petaluma lumber firm will furnish the windows for the building. The Native Sons will see to having a new tile roof put on the old building. Thus another one of the historic old landmarks is being restored.

ONE OF SONOMA VALLEY'S BEAUTIFUL HOMES

Residence on El Cerrito Rancho

There are many handsome country places throughout the valley, where handsome residences, well kept orchards and vineyards, and an abundance of shade and water make living on them ideal. The El Cerrito rancho is typical of these splendid estates. It recently changed hands, the consideration being almost $50,000. Mrs. Snyder, the original owner, left the valley intending to buy elsewhere but finding out Sonoma Valley had no rival for climatic condition and real beauty, she returned to build a spacious bungalow on her oak bedecked ranch south of town.

Many Sonoma farms are sold to outsiders and new tracts find their way into the possession of old residents who reinvest in the incomparable Sonoma Valley.

The Yulupa rancho with its abundance of fine water is another show place of the valley as is also the Rudolph Spreckles ranch.

People of discriminating taste find Sonoma an ideal place in which to live, because of its historic and romantic past, its present prosperity, its brilliant future, the always matchless climate, and incomparable scenery.

DID AN OLD FAMILY FUED CAUSE DOUBLE MURDER?

Theory is Advanced that the Killing of Lafranchi and His Nephew, A. Albertoni, Was the Sequel to Some Old-Time Enmity.

It is believed by many that an old fued was the cause of the murder of John Lafranchi and his nephew, Augustine Albertoni, on the former's ranch, near Ignacio two weeks ago.

Mrs. Lafranchi is the daughter of Jose Castro, a prominent and picturesque figure of the days before the Gringo came. Castro owned thousands of acres, and was a leader of Spaniards, and those days were less of law than at present, and the disputes were often settled with weapons. Also there were fueds, which in some cases were bequethed by father to son, and were shared by all the members of a family. Officers of Marin county are searching for the possibility that one of these feuds caused the double murder.

In support of the theory that such is the case, it is cited that robbery was not the motive; for none of the murdered man's property was taken, although he had shown seventy-five dollars in gold while a neighbor was paying him money in the presence of the man who afterwards killed him. It is also remarked that although the the murderer came begging for food and lodging and ostensibly seeking work as a laborer, he had not the appearance of a man accustomed to labor. Also that he changed part of his clothes before going to the Lafranchi place, evidently in an effort to disguise himself. He was prepared to commit the crime, for he carried a revolver. He insisted on staying all night at the Lafranchi place, and in the darkness of the early morning he advanced without a word of warning, and opened fire before his victims had seen him.

Sheriff Keating of Marin county believes the murderer has committed suicide. He says the country has been so closely guarded that he is sure the slayer has not escaped, and unless he had previously provided a cache of provisions in a secret place, hunger would have driven him into the open if he were alive. Paul Pacheco, one of the most active of the man-hunters, shares his view.

The funeral of the victims was held Tuesday from the Catholic church in San Rafael.

A Tip to the Wise

The following letter is self explanatory but we urge the gentleman to direct his attention to Sonoma as we can meet his wants.

Rupert, Idaho, Feb. 28th, 1911.
Postmaster, Cloverdale, Cal.

Kind Sir: Will you please write me in regard to your country reliable information, not real estate agent talk, what kind of climate; what kind of crops do the best; does the land have to be irrigated; if so cost of water, price of improved and unimproved land. Is there a widow or maid that owns a ranch, age about 45, weight about 130, healthy and kind disposition, good cook and of good charactor, wanting a husband. My age is 57; slender built; honest and industrious, with some money and believe in economy; no dissipating habits. Respectfully yours, Route No. 1 Box 104, Rupert, Idaho.

WOMANS RIGHT TO DRESS

In springtime maidens fancy turns towards thoughts of clothes and Dame Fashion is supreme. The eternal feminine is eternally wanting something new—that is the plantive cry of the masculine populace. Yet Fluffy Ruffles and Nell Brinkleys hold the boards, and men decry suffragettes lest they really should forget their clothes and take to trousers of other extremely masculine garb. While the serious ones are discussing this phase of womans' rights, the rank and file are making glad the heart of the shop keepers and modistes, and there never was a more gorgeous and bewildering lot of beautiful styles to tempt the pocket-book.

At the recent fashion shows held in San Francisco, and about the bay, there was a parade of husbands as well as fashion. The keen observer saw styles in masculinity, there was the fat, good natured husband who allowed himself to be pulled around from one window to another, the nervous man, who really paid the bills, shying off from tags marked $47.50, the still enthusiastic groom who dotes on his well-dressed wife because her trousseau is yet stylish and he has done no buying. Oh there were other types and types, and such an education it was to mere man. One little wife bubbling over with the joy of it all grasped her helpmates arm and exclaimed, "How sweet that one is piped in red." "Pipe the red" did you say questioned the hubby, and he filled his briar to show where his interost really lay.

Another woman was talking about marabout and her escort really thought she was getting back to earth, to marrow bones, meat and the high cost of living. Other enthusiasts raved over marquisettes, peau de soies, hobbles, jabots, pumps, puffs, cluny, dutch necks, coral and charmenade, while the mystified husbands began to see light as they tried to follow them in their fond glances from $1.25 per yard to $4.00 per ounce. All these innovations are illumining but they drive mere man to Pankhurst lectures away from the Merry Widow and Madame Sherry, that is theoritically the effect, but it is "a good old world after all" and the woman to whom clothes and frivolities are dear, need not worry for the sensible age is no more a competitor of the sentimental age than it ever was and ever will be, and it will be fashionable to be fashionable always and indulgent masculinity will continue to smile and grumble o'er womans' follies.

The war talk with Japan may be immature but the mobilization of the United States troops is a move backed up by plenty of reason. The preservation of neutrality on the southern borders is imperative and troops in perfect working order are a very valuable asset in securing the peace for which Mr. Carnegie paid so many millions. President Taft is no blusterer and he does not hesitate to press the button when necessary. The American people have confidence in his judgement in this latest move and while it might not be wise to tell all he knows, it is our duty to have the confidence in him that he merits.

Assessor's Notice —TO— Property Owners.

All taxpayers are required by the Constitution to make and deliver to the County Assessor annually a statement under oath, setting forth specifically all the real and personal property owned by such person, or in his possession, or under his control, at 12 o'clock M. on the first Monday in March.

Note—The assessment of property throughout the State of California is made during the months of March, April, May and June, and the law requires that each individual property holder file a statement with the assessor or his deputy during these months.

Mortgages Not Assessable.

The Attorney General holds that "from this time forth all mortgages, no matter when made nor what their terms, are exempt from taxation."

The Constitutional Amendment which was adopted at the last general election, provided that a mortgage or deed of trust "shall not be considered property subject to taxation," and this operates as a decree by the people that the securities mentioned shall not hereafter constitute taxable property. Official duties in matters of taxation cannot be imposed or regulated by private contract."

"Nevertheless, the lien of taxes for mortgages assessed in 1910, before the constitution was amended, is not released, and parties now charged with taxes on the tax rolls must pay the same."

PERSONAL PROPERTY.

The Assessor must collect the taxes on all personal property when in his opinion said taxes are not a lien upon the real property sufficient to secure the payment of the taxes. The Assessor or his deputy must collect such taxes at the time of making the assessment.

State Poll and Road Poll Tax

Are due on demand from all persons liable to same, between the 1st Monday in March and the 1st Monday in August. The amount is $2 each. If not paid by the 1st Monday in August, $1 is added and the amount becomes $3 each.

All persons owning real estate that has heretofore been assessed to the wrong name, or those who have purchased real estate within the past year, are requested to appear with their deeds at the Assessor's office or to the deputies, during the months of March, April and May, and have the proper changes made.

Will those having fruit trees or vines kindly enumerate the same, giving number and age of each kind, so as to save time when the deputy assessor calls.

Any desired information relative to assessments will be furnished upon application at the county assessor's office, court house, Santa Rosa.

FRANK E. DOWD,
County Assessor.

Anglers Look Forward to Trout Season

The local nimrod is begining to sit up and take notice, now that the trout season bids fare to a good opening on the first of April. The weather should be ideal and the streams clear, so old time anglers say, and with the eagle eye of Deputy Fish Commissioner Wagnon on out of-season-poachers there are good possibilities in the several streams for old time fishermen.

To-day various rough riders admitted that they had been offered commissions in the event of hostilities. Colonel Roosevelt came here from El Paso, where he is said information of Japanese activities in Mexico startled him into making the tentative arrangements to go to the front if necessity should arise.

TRINITY CHURCH FOR SONOMA

Episcopalian's New Parish Will Embrace a Very Large Territory

The efforts of the Episcopalians of the valley to form a parish, to be known as Trinity Parish, and which is to embrace all the territory between Sonoma and Kenwood, is meeting with decided success. The Rev. Thos. Boyd of Vallejo, who has been holding services pending the permanent organization of the new church, is much gratified at the earnest and enthusiastic response of his parishners. Several hundred dollars has been collected and the sum will soon total a thousand. A handsome silver communion service has been presented to the new church by Miss Landsborough.

A guild, of which Mrs. P. N. Stofen is president, will soon be an active auxiliary to Sonoma church work and a vested choir will be formed shortly which promises some splendid Easter music under the direction of Mrs. A. F. Bateman.

BIGELOW HOME SET ON FIRE

An Effort Made by Fiend in Human Shape to Burn the House

The J. K. Bigelow home was discovered to be on fire, Wednesday morning at 3 o'clock, when one of the children of the household smelled smoke and aroused its parents. Mr. Bigelow came down stairs to find the living room in a blaze, while a kerosene soaked rug and couch bore evidence of the fire fiend's dastardly plot to destroy the house and its occupants.

The flames were quickly etxinguished and the damage done was nominal, although the family was panic stricken at the possibilities of the awful holocaust which might have resulted. Had they not awakened at the time they did they would have been trapped by the flames and all escape cut off.

As the house belongs to the Maxwells, Mr. Bigelow's theory is that the fire was a deliberate plot, on the part of his enemies, to destroy himself aud family.

He has offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of the parties of the plot and detectives are working on the case.

Besides the immediate family of Mr. Bigelow, Mrs. Houx and Miss Kenyon, guests, were in the house at the time.

OLD MISSION SAN FRANCISCO DE SOLANO TO RECEIVE $5,000

A bill has been passed in both houses of the Legislature, at Sacramento, giving $5,000 to be used in restoring and preserving the old Mission here at Sonoma. The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Slater of Santa Rosa. All that now remains to make this bill effective is the Governor's signature, which he will no doubt affix to the same. The Mission is quite an attraction for Sonoma and brings a number of people here every year.

Conscience.

"On what grounds do you desire to withdraw the plea of 'not guilty?'"

"On the simple ground that we are guilty. However, we must call the attention of your honor to the regrettable fact that the statute of limitations lets us out. Too bad we were not asked about this matter earlier."—Philadelphia Ledger.

New York and the Surf.

Few New Yorkers ever stop to think that one of that city's chief attractions is the surf. Philadelphians must go fifty-six miles to the ocean. Though the folk of Baltimore and Washington live on tidewater, they must travel for surf bathing to the capes. Boston is the only other large town on the Atlantic seaboard besides New York that has the ocean at its back door. San Francisco and Los Angeles are the only Pacific coast cities within trolley ride of ocean beach. None of the Mexican gulf cities can be compared to New York as a seaside resort, and as to New Orleans, another Mecca of the pleasure seekers, that lies more than 100 miles above the mouth of the Mississippi. But, including Coney Island and Rockaway, a good many miles of Greater New York are bounded by the ocean. This fact, just to consider the money making side of it, means an enormous revenue to the metropolis from the inland parts of the country. It is an advantage other great world centers, such as London, Paris and Berlin, do not enjoy.—Argonaut.

The Short Step Between.

"I was on an ocean liner when she ran on the rocks off the English coast some years ago," said a traveling man, "and in the panic that ensued there is one incident that stands out in my memory, illustrating the slender thread between the tragic and the ridiculous. We had a fellow on board who had managed to keep pretty well loaded all the way across, and when we struck the rocks he was in his usual condition. When everybody thought for sure we were going to the bottom he sat down at the piano in the saloon, and what do you suppose he began playing? 'Home, Sweet Home.' Somebody went to him and begged him to stop. Immediately he switched off from the doleful strains of the old song to the rollicking melody of 'Down Went McGinty.' The absurdity of the thing seemed to strike everybody at once, and a general laugh followed. The tension was relieved, and there was good order after that."

The Restaurant Piccolo.

Writing from Dresden, an American says: "There is at least one thing in a German restaurant for which one would look in vain in our country. That is the piccolo. You may think that I mean a musical instrument and that any orchestra in any country might have one of these, but you are wrong. My piccolo, the one at the restaurant, is a human being. He is a boy twelve to fifteen years old, who assists the regular waiters. He wears the regulation waiter's costume and looks funny in his spiketail coat. He is as solemn as a funeral, knows how to extract a tip and for the high privilege of retaining his place and taking his first degree as a waiter must endure much abuse at the hands of the head waiter and his underlings. He is a funny little fellow, this piccolo, who because of his appearance could never prosper in our country."—New York Tribune.

Created a New Word.

It was the third Earl Spencer who added a word to the language in consequence of a wager. The bet was that by cutting off the tail part of his overcoat he could bring into fashion overcoats so short that the skirts of the undercoat would show beneath. He won his wager, and "spencer" became the name both of that garment and of the feminine one afterward constructed in its likeness. The peerage has added more than one name to the terminology of costume. Everybody knows "Wellingtons," and the billycock hat is said by some to be really "Billy Coke," from Coke of Norfolk, earl of Leicester. But none of these examples in the sphere of clothes rivals what the Earl of Sandwich did when he contrived the slice of meat between bread as a device to enable him to go on gambling without leaving off for a meal.—London Chronicle.

Getting Acquainted.

"We hesitated about renting this place," said the woman who had just moved in, "until we learned that the families on both sides of us owned their houses. It is so unpleasant to live where the people next door are always changing and you never know what kind of neighbors you are going to have."

"Yes," responded the woman on the other side of the fence. "That's one reason why we're trying to sell our house."—Chicago Tribune.

A Bright Student.

During a recent examination in the theology of the Old Testament the following question was asked a young clergyman: "What language did Balaam's ass speak?" After a moment of thought a smile flashed across his face, and he wrote his answer. I looked at the paper. He had written, "Assyrian."—Lippincott's.

Things He Sees.

"He's a terrible drunkard, isn't he?"

"Yes, but he's a good citizen."

"How can that be?"

"Every time he has jimjams he goes to the courthouse and pays taxes on a pack of pink and blue dogs."—Cleveland Leader.

Anticipated.

Margaret—Did you tell the girls at the tea that secret I confided to you and Josephine? Katharine—No, truly I didn't. Josephine got there first.—Harper's Bazar.

Knew Better.

"They say Brown is ten years ahead of his time."

"Well, it's not true. He's six months behind. I'm his landlord and know."
